FROM THE STAFF OF BIBLE TRUTH BOOKS

Spring, 2024

Dear Friends,

“And call upon Me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify Me.” This text is found in the 50th Psalm, a psalm of Asaph. Asaph, inspired by the Holy Spirit, penned these words, but it is abundantly clear that the words are spoken from the Mouth of the Lord Himself. In themselves, they are only words. We may have heard these words many times, but when the “day of trouble comes”, then it may be that they have a meaning and depth that a reader has never before seen. More precious still, there is a divine promise connected to it, “I will deliver thee, and Thou Shalt glorify me.” There are temporal troubles, (and those ways can be very deep) and if the Lord is pleased to give a little light upon these words, than it can afford great and undeserved comfort. More blessed still, however, is if the Lord may speak them unto a soul regarding matters concerning that great and never-ending eternity.

Regarding the materials that we read, however, the same is also true. A book – whether it is a book of sermons, a collection of letters, or some writings regarding a certain truth in God’s Word – remains only that – paper, ink, and words, unless the Lord is pleased to cause that it may go deeper. This, dear friends, is our hope regarding the materials that we are privileged to sell: that the Lord might accompany them and add His blessing to it. Then they become so much more than a collection of words upon a page, but they become words and matters that the Lord Himself has placed there.

Sincerely,

The Staff of Bible Truth Books

Upon Thy Paths by Rev. A. T. Huijser (SH)

The title of the book is taken from Psalter 33 stanza 2: "Upon thy paths my steps held fast." This path refers to the path of the Ten Commandments, which once sounded from Mount Sinai. The Great Lawgiver wrote His law in tables of stone. What is written in stone, remains in stone. This emphasizes that God's pure commandments are everlasting and have lasting value. The Ten Commandments are explained on the basis of Lord's Days 34 through 44 of the Heidelberg Catechism, in both the literal and spiritual sense of each commandment. Each chapter is concluded with discussion questions, making it suitable for personal and group use. For young people by Rev. Huijser, a minister in Sliedrecht, The Netherlands. 162 pages.

From Farmhand to Minister by L. Benschop (IM-JH)

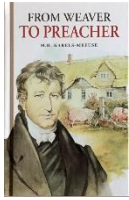

A children's story about the life and labors of Rev. J. van der Poel (1909-1981). Johannes Van Der Poel was born on April 23, 1909, in a small village in the Netherlands. His mother believed that one day he will become a minister and therefore prayed often for him. He was a mischievous youngster who was often reprimanded for his actions. Stealing shoes and throwing sugar beets into the schoolhouse are some of the deeds that brought him in contact with the law. He was also led to the ministry in the Old Reformed Congregations. During World War II, he made many trips to the border to get food for the hungry in his area. He was often sick and unable to preach, but time and again he was able to again take up the shepherd's staff. Rev. van der Poel was always a servant, either on the farm or in God's vineyard. 194 pages.

Ephesians by C. Hodge

Item# 27730 Price: $16.50 (HC)

An Exposition of John Seventeen by Martin Luther

In his exposition, Martin Luther speaks of how, in the words of the prayer recorded in this chapter, we see the mystery and wonder of Christ and the two distinct natures, in the one glorious Person of Emmanuel. As the great High Priest and only Mediator, how fitted he is to stand between God and men, and by his prevailing intercession make the sinner's prayer acceptable unto God. The publishers note, "Those who feel the poverty of their prayers, their poor stumblings and stutterings as they try to plead with God, will find much to comfort and encourage them in this book."

Item# 30040 Price: $12.25 (HC)

An Exposition of the Fifty-First Psalm by Martin Luther

Here we have Luther's Exposition of Psalm 51. King David had been guilty of the sins of adultery and murder. However, by means of the prophet Nathan's faithful dealings in which he declared to the king, "Thou art the man," God wrought real conviction in David's soul. This is most evident in this Psalm, where David confesses before God, "Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight." Contains 19 chapters, one for each verse of the Psalm. Hardcover, 200 pages.

Item# 30060 Price: $12.25 (HC)

An Exposition of the Old and New Testaments (9 Vols.) by John Gill

John Gill's highly regarded Bible Commentary.

Item# 31000 Price: $338.00 (HC)

This book is taken from Gill's nine-volume commentary and consists of John Gill's remarks on the Song of Solomon.

Item# 31800 Price: $22.00 (PB)

Genesis by John Calvin

While spending considerable time on the early chapters, Calvin does not neglect the rich narratives in the latter part of the book. Although first published in 1554, this commentary is still applicable today as the reformer faithfully yet tenderly displays the human depravity all too evident in the first book of the Bible.

Item# 34200 Price: $29.00 (HC)

Hebrews by John Owen

Bunyan's Catechism by J. Bunyan

During his time in prison, Bunyan wrote this special work for his Bedford congregation. Although not entirely suited for a children's catechism class, Bunyan's Catechism brings the reader step-by-step through foundational Bible truths, entirely in questions-and-answers. Our readers will find the old, familiar style of Bunyan...so plain, so simple, and yet so firm, so sound, and so true. Formerly published under the title, "Instruction for the Ignorant." 56 pages.

Occupations in the Bible by Rev. B. J. van Boven

It is quite common for young people think about possible future occupations. In God's Word, we also read of many occupations: a seller of purple, physicians, midwives, builders, fishermen, sowers, and even tent-makers. Rev. van Boven gently leads his readers into twelve of these occupations, but especially considers the spiritual instruction that can be gleaned from each one. Young people, understandably, will find this of interest, but we know that their (grand)parents will also enjoy these portions. 111 pages.

The Grain is Ripe by L. Vogelaar

A well-written biography of Rev. Dieleman, who was ordained and installed in his first congregation of Borselle, the Netherlands in 1948 at the age of 34. Although Rev. Dieleman's name is not so well-known here in North America, he was given the words to speak and was well-respected. In the six years that followed, he received 39 calls, including calls to the congregations of Norwich, St. Catharines, Clifton, and Franklin Lakes. In 1951, he was installed in the congregation of Yerseke and later accepted a call to Moerkapelle. However, his sudden death by an accident with a train reminded the congregations of the uncertainty of life, and that the Lord's servants are under His sovereign authority. He knows all things – also when the grain is ripe. 316 pages.

The Hidden Pathway by G. Buss

A fascinating, yet deeply spiritual recollection of the life of a minister's wife during the first half of the twentieth century. The scenes behind the joys and sorrows bring vividly to life the sacrifices Elsie Dawson made over the many years that her husband was a minister in the town of Bethersden, England. His own writings combine to make this a memorial of God's goodness.

Item# 39760 Price: $14.50 (HC)

I Seek My Brethren by M. H. Karels-Meeuse

The remarkable biography of Joseph Zalman (1860-1924), an Eastern European Jew. Mr. Zalman was in the process of emigrating to the United States when his journeys brought him (providentially) to the Netherlands. There, he unexpectedly met Rev. Adler from the "Society for Promoting Christianity Among the Jews". The Lord was pleased to bless the instruction he received from Rev. Adler to his heart, and in time, he himself promoted and persuaded regarding the truths that he once despised. 101 pages.

Item# 42224 Price: $15.00 (PB)

In the Cleft of the Rock by J. Westerbeke

The author of the well-known "Young Singers" series has also provided us with the autobiography of Maria Wilhelmina Kamphuis (1876-1941). At first glance, one might think that little of particular outward importance took place in her life. However, she is given to clearly describe the Lord's dealings and leadings with her from her youth, and this is what makes this such a nice book. In his traditional style, J. Westerbeke has added a few remarks at the beginning and some insightful historical notes at the end. 164 pages.

A book written on the occasion of the 100-year anniversary of the Netherlands Reformed Congregation of Sheboygan, Wisconsin. The book discusses the church's early beginnings, meetings in a rented school house located behind a popular meat market in Sheboygan in 1907. It mentions the conversion of a young man under the preaching of Rev. C Pieneman at one of the early services. The young man later became a minister in our congregations. The book also includes the 75-year commemoration sermon by Rev. J. Spaans as well as the 100-year commemoration sermon by Rev. P.L. Bazen. This history includes many evidences of God's providing hand since being organized in 1910 to the present. Approximately 60 pages.

Item# 36170 Price: $17.50 (HC)

Great is Thy Faithfulness

There are many histories of congregations in print today. Indeed, a congregation may have been preserved for 50, 100, or 150 years. But the value of a church is not the size of the building, the number of members, or even in a list of past consistory members. It is in whether the truth may be still preached from the pulpit and also experienced in the souls of the hearers. The congregation of South Holland/Lansing, albeit small, has been faithfully preserved – not by man, but by the Lord who watches over the cause of His church. The book is already in its second printing. 247 pages.

In Search of Freedom by J. Broome

The Pilgrim Fathers were a God-fearing group who suffered persecution at the hands of the ecclesiastical system prevailing in their day. As a consequence, they resolved to look for peace in a land across the sea. The author traces their emergence during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, their escape to Holland, and their eventual landing at Plymouth Rock, Massachusetts in November, 1620. He then shows how they adapted to their new environment and the effect that the preaching of the gospel had upon the new colony. 164 pages.

“And there was one Anna...” (Luke 2:36a)

Throughout all the ages, the Lord will see to it that there will remain a poor and needy people, and that they will trust in the Name of the Lord. There was room made while the word Was preached, and Holy Ghost gave witness of Zion’s King, who had come to earth. The Lord knows the encampment of those who are His. When the Spirit is present, then that will leave an impression in the congregation and in the heart. It is great if there may be sustaining grace. It is profitable if there is elucidating grace. It is a comfort if there is establishing grace.

After having spoken together after the service in the consistory room (and it is a privilege if that may still happen) we went homeward. There was a young woman waiting for us outside of the church. She was deeply moved; it was easy to see that the preaching had affected her.

“May I ask you something?”

I stood still and said, “What would you like to ask?”

With tears in her eyes, she asked the following, “Does it always take as long as with Anna, before He, Who is pointed to in the promises, reveals Himself as Person?”

A question of that nature asks for a question in return. I asked, “Why do you ask that?”

She answered, “If it must take as long as with Anna, then I will have died from homesickness.”

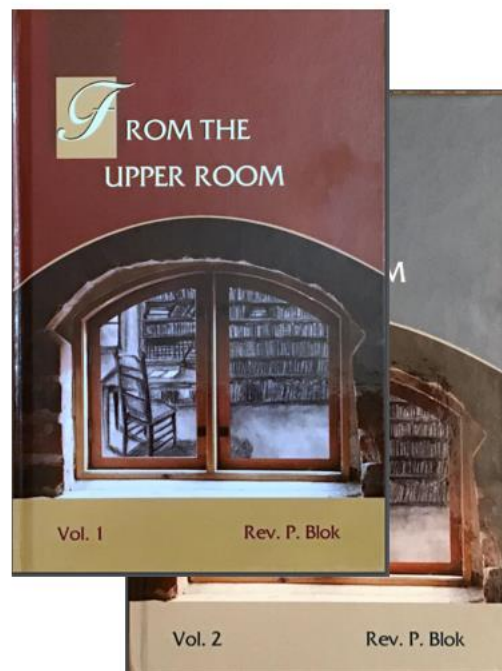

How evidently clear is the distinction; namely, that living out of the promises is much different than being brought to the end of the promises. All that remains then is a lively missing. Then the Lord draws from His side and the soul is drawn by the Holy Ghost to seek for the solution of their life. Then love is resurrected and the soul cries for the fulfillment needed for that life.

The instruction for this young woman was not difficult. “Though it tarry, wait for it, for it will surely come, it will not tarry.”

That young lady could not resolve it herself. It had to be resolved from heaven. Then the hands are too short to grasp it and the feet are too stiff to move. It is given grace, in the beginning, but also by continuance.

The Lord vouches for His own Work. It is a privilege if there are yet people in the congregation who are made homesick by the Lord Himself. “Tell me, O Thou Who my soul lovest, where Thou feedest, where Thou makest Thy flocks to rest at noon: for why should I be as one that turneth aside by the flocks of Thy companions?”

Blue Book Sermons

Bible Truth Books, in cooperation with the NRC Book & Publishing Committee, has a considerable collection of new and donated "Blue Book" sermons. These booklets are generally in good condition and are available free of charge. Those who have partial sets are also welcome to send us a list of Blue Books they are missing and we will do our best to supply these as availability permits.

In addition, donations of any Blue Book Sermons are very welcome, especially Blue Books 1 – 300.

Free Recordings on Cassette Tapes

Over the years, CDs have replaced cassette tapes, leaving us with a number of unsold cassettes from the Grand Rapids Choir, the Asaph Choir, and the Brothers Four Choir. These cassettes are available free of charge with any purchase of $10 or greater (while supplies last). Please include a note with the desired titles in your order. Our list of available cassette recordings includes:

Grand Rapids NRC Choir

Abundant Fields of Grain Shall Wave
The Dawn Shall Hear My Song
Through the Silent Watches
Ye Nations Praise His Glorious Name
Not Unto Us

Brothers Four Harmony Quartet

Teach Me Thy Perfect Way
He Only Is My Rock and Tower
Through the Night

Other Titles

Kerst in Holland (Martin Mans, Organist)

Sermon Recordings: Cassette-tape sermons of many ministers are also available at no charge. Please contact us for further information.
